

DEVIN DRISCOLL

DISTRICT 11 - KNOX COUNTY COMMISSION AT LARGE

Devin Driscoll's Biography

Growing up in Knoxville, the importance of hard work, community and the Volunteer Spirit were instilled in Devin from a young age. After graduating from high school in Knoxville, earning a degree from Fordham University and wrestling in the WWE, Devin returned to Knox County, looking to use his business experience, athletic background and Knoxville roots to give back to his hometown community.

Devin knows that Knoxville is a great place to start and grow a business because he's done it. Understanding that a robust business environment can create new opportunities for communities to thrive, he is working every day to make Knox County the best place to do business in Tennessee.

Devin is ready to hit the ground running and deliver for who matters most - Knox County residents.

He and his wife Alison, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, live in Farragut with their two children Ryder and Charleston.
